Q.2. A. Read the following passage and do the activities. [10 marks]A1. Choose the correct alternatives from the given options and rewrite the sentences:

(appealing, casually, flattery, well-oiled)

- i. I followed _____
- ii. Anil talked about the _____ wrestlers.
- iii. I gave him my most _____ smile.
- iv. A little _____ helps in making friends.

I was still a thief when I met Anil. And though only 15, I was an experienced and fairly successful hand.

Anil was watching a wrestling match when I approached him. He was about 25 – a tall, lean fellow – and he looked easy-going, kind and simple enough for my purpose. I hadn't had much luck of late and thought I might be able to get into the young man's confidence.

"You look a bit of a wrestler yourself," I said. A little flattery helps in making freinds.

"So do you," he replied, which put me off for a moment because at that time I was rather thin.

"Well," I said modestly, "I do wrestle a bit."

"What's your name?"

"Hari Singh," I lied. I took a new name every month. That kept me ahead of the police and my former employers.

After this introduction, Anil talked about the well-oiled wrestlers who were grunting, lifting and throwing each other about. I didn't have much to say. Anil walked away. I followed casually.

"Hello again," he said.

I gave him my most appealing smile. "I want to work for you", I said.

"But I can't pay you."

I thought that over for a minute. Perhaps I had misjudged my man.

I asked, "Can you feed me?"

"Can you cook?"

"I can cook." I lied again.

"If you can cook, then may be I can feed you."

He took me to his room over the Jumna Sweet Shop and told me I could sleep on the balcony. But the meal I cooked that night must have been terrible because Anil gave it to a stray dog and told me to be off. But I just hung around, smiling in my most appealing way, and he couldn't help laughing.

- i. At what age was Stephen diagnosed with amyotrophic lateral sclerosis?
- ii. Over the years, how many books has Stephen written or co-written?
- iii. When did Stephen catapult to international prominence?
- iv. In which year was his life story depicted?

Stephen Hawking (born January 8, 1942) is a British scientist, professor and author who has done groundbreaking work in physics and cosmology, and whose books have helped to make science accessible everyone. At the age of 21, while studying cosmology at the University of Cambridge, he was diagnosed with amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS). Part of his life story was depicted in the 2014 film. The Theory of Everything.

Over the years, Stephen Hawking has written or co-written a total of 15 books. A few of the most noteworthy include:

In 1988 Hawking catapulted to international prominence with the publication of A Brief History of Time. The short, informative book became an account of cosmology for the masses and offered an overview of space and time, the existence of God and the future. The work was an instant success, spending more than four years atop the ‘London Sunday Times’ best-seller list. Since its publication, it has sold millions of copies worldwide and been translated into more than 40 languages.

A Brief History of Time also wasn’t as easy to understand as some had hoped. So in 2001, Hawking followed up his book with The Universe in a Nutshell, which offered a more illustrated guide to cosmology’s big theories.

In 2005, Hawking authored the even more accessible A Briefer History of Time, which further simplified the original work’s core concepts and touched upon the newest developments in the field like String theory.

A1. Fill in the web with what passion poesy can do to you: (2)

..... and clear rills
 That for themselves a cooling covert make
 ‘Gainst the hot season; the mid forest brake,
 Rich with a sprinkling of fair musk-rose blooms:
 And such too is the grandeur of the dooms
 We have imagined for the mighty deed;
 All lovely tales that we have heard or read:
 An endless fountain of immortal drink
 Pouring unto us from the heaven’s brink.
 Nor do we merely feel these essences
 For one short hour; no, even as the trees
 That whisper round a temple become soon
 Dear as the temple’s self, so does the moon,
 The passion poesy, glories infinite,
 Haunt us till they become a cheering light
 Unto our souls, and bound to us so fast,
 That, whether there be shine, or gloom o’ercast
 They always must be with us, or we die.

A2. List the things which express sorrow from the extract. (2)

A3. Write down the rhyme scheme of the last five lines. (1)

(B) Read the following poem and write an appreciation of it with the help of the given points in paragraph format. [10 marks]

The Pulley

When God at first made Man,
 Having a glass of blessings standing by;
 Let us (said He) “pour on him all we can:”
 Let the worlds riches, which dispersed lie,
 Contract into a span.

So strength first made a way;
 Then beauty flow’d, then wisdom, honour, pleasure:
 When almost all was out, God made a stay,
 Perceiving that alone of all His treasures
 Rest in the bottom lay.

For if I should (said He)
 Bestow this jewel also on my creature,
 He would adore my gifts instead of me,
 And rest in Nature, not the God of Nature.
 So both should losers be.

Yet let him keep the rest,
 But keep them with repining restlessness:
 Let him be rich and weary, that at last,
 If goodness lead him not, yet wariness
 May toss him to my breast.

– George Herbert
